

FOOD FOR ALL DC

HOLIDAY REFLECTIONS

Over the years, Food For All has created a strong community of like-minded people intent on reducing food insecurity in DC. This includes generous donors, spirited volunteers, loyal food supply partners and our operational partners who extend our reach into the community. Together we create a powerful ripple effect in society that touches so many people in positive ways. The stronger our solidarity, the more transformational our actions can be.

Recently, we hosted a gathering at FFA's new garden site to give thanks to all the members of our extended community. It was wonderful to gather in one place to celebrate the work we do together. We shared activities that were joyful, yet symbolic.

A collective chalk mural demonstrated how something dull can be transformed with words and color. We planted seeds in our new garden to demonstrate the power of regeneration. And entertainment by community members spread insight and joy.

By coming together we strengthened our commitment to spread waves of good energy into the world. We are stronger together, more effective together, and more secure together.

As we gather with friends and family during the holiday period, let us honor our loved ones while also remembering to spread our circle of influence so that others may thrive in their own ways, too.

The sharing of food is one of the sweetest expressions of human culture. When we break bread together, we thrive together. Thank you for your contributions that make this happen.

HAPPY HOLIDAYS!!
